of the

Expiry review request under Article 11 of Regulation 2016/1036 concerning bicycles from China

Submitted by

EUROPEAN BICYCLE
MANUFACTURERS ASSOCIATION

Prepared by

1. Product description

The product subject to this review request is bicycles and other cycles (including delivery tricycles but excluding unicycles), not motorised originating in China, currently falling within CN codes 8712 0030 and ex 8712 0070 ("the product concerned"). Bicycles subject to this Request have the same basic features as bicycles covered by Regulation 502/2013.

2. Summary of the Complaint

The European Bicycle Manufacturers Association ("EBMA") has found prima facie evidence that imports of bicycles from China continue to be dumped and that injury to the EU bicycle industry would recur should the anti-dumping measures be allowed to lapse.

Therefore, EBMA, on behalf of Union producers of bicycles, requests that the European Commission ("Commission") initiate an expiry review ("ER") pursuant to Article 11 of the Basic Regulation of the anti-dumping ("AD") measures currently in force on imports of bicycles from the People's Republic of China ("China") ("product concerned") with a view to the extension of these measures for a five-year period ("the Request").

Following an ER investigation (R503) in 2011, the AD measures imposed on bicycles from China in 2004 were extended for a period of 5 years. In 2013, the Commission initiated ex officio a full interim review (R546) that confirmed the need to maintain the AD measures without modification. In two consecutive anti-circumvention ("AC") investigations in 2013 and 2015 (R563 and R608), the Commission extended the AD measures to seven countries via which Chinese producers were found to have heavily circumvented the AD measures in force.

The annual Chinese bicycle capacities are approximately 130 million bicycles (as compared to a total worldwide demand of 120 million bicycles) and the annual production is approximately 85 million bicycles. Traditionally, approximately seventy percent of Chinese bicycle production (i.e. approximately 59 million pieces) is exported. This over three times the EU consumption (of approximately 19 million bicycles).

However, in 2016-17, the uncontrolled growth of bike-sharing led total bicycle sales in China to decline over 50 % in 2016-17, further increasing overcapacities. The Chinese bicycle industry therefore – supported by the 5-Year Plan – tries to find relief for the pressure from its overcapacities via exports, or in other words by extending their internal State-subsidised price wars to third countries.

The AD and AC measures have allowed the EU industry to survive the unfair competition by Chinese bicycle producers so far. Thanks to an increasing health awareness and the boom of e-bikes in the EU, many bicycle producers have been able to improve their business situation and make new investments. The situation on the EU market even encouraged parts producers (an industry largely thought dead due to undercutting by Chinese-made products) to re-establish themselves in the EU. These are important developments for the long-term survival of the EU bicycle industry, which is, with 90,000 direct and indirect green jobs, one of the most important employers among the EU green industries.

However, due to the described massive overcapacities and cut-through competition in the Chinese bicycle industry, the expiry of the AD measures would quickly result in a sharp increase in imports of dumped and undercutting bicycles from China. This would again cause material injury to the EU industry and frustrate the investments of the last years. EU producers, one by one, would be put out of business. Because of this massive threat, many EU producers have held off necessary long-term investments, e.g. to upgrade bicycles and bicycle production to industry 4.0 standards (IOT – internet of things) which are needed to continue the industry in the 21 century.

In sum, the continuation of the AD measure is essential to the survival of the EU industry as without measures high import volumes of heavily dumped and undercutting imports of bicycles from China would cause material injury to the EU industry.
