4. The Joint Council adopted the institutional framework of the EPA containing the following documents: (i) the rules of procedure for the Joint Council, (ii) the rules of procedure for the Trade and Development Committee, (iii) the rules of procedure for Dispute Settlement and Dispute Avoidance and the Code of Conduct of Arbitrators and Mediators.

5. Furthermore, the Joint Council endorsed the adoption by the Trade and Development Committee of a list of arbitrators. The adoption of these instruments completes the necessary institutional arrangements to enable full implementation of the EPA.
6. The Joint Council welcomed the positive impact of the EPA on trade flows on both sides. The Joint Council agreed that in order to promote two-way trade and at the same time address certain concerns, there was a need to enhance cooperation on sanitary and phytosanitary measures and other aspects including safeguard measures relating to the implementation of the EPA.
7. To fully benefit from the EPA, the Joint Council recognised the need for investment, increased manufacturing capacity, sustainable employment and diversified exports. The role of the EU's development instruments in supporting those objectives was acknowledged and attention was drawn to new opportunities offered within the framework of the Africa Europe Alliance for Sustainable Investment and Jobs.
8. The Joint Council endorsed the new trigger levels for products denoted by an asterisk (*) in Annex IV of the EPA Agreement on agriculture safeguards, which will be implemented following internal processes of the Parties.
9. Furthermore, the Joint Council exchanged views on the implications of Brexit.
10. The Joint Council noted the importance of participation of non-State Actors in the implementation of the EU-SADC EPA and the commitment undertaken to co-facilitate the organisation of a meeting at least once per year of non-state actors' representatives from both the EU and the SADC EPA States to discuss EPA-related issues and EPA implementation.
11. In addition, the Joint Council welcomed the commitment to undertake further steps towards the development of a common methodology aimed at finalising a monitoring and evaluation framework for the EPA.
